To Whom It May Concern:

The purpose of this form is to advise you of several federal and state laws that could affect you as you take possession of the firearms described in the "Firearms Description" below. Please read carefully.

Federal Law: The following statutes are found in Title 18, United States Code, Chapter 44.

18 U.S.C. 922(g)(8): A person who is subject to a qualifying protective order that arises out of harassing, stalking or threatening a present or former household member is prohibited from possessing, transporting or shipping a firearm. This federal statute applies to a protective order issued by a court of any state, U.S. Territory or Tribal Authority.

18 U.S.C. 922(g)(9): As of September 30, 1996, a person may not possess, ship or transport a firearm or ammunition after the person has been convicted of a misdemeanor crime of domestic violence. This prohibition applies to persons convicted of such misdemeanors at any time, even if the conviction occurred prior to the law's effective date.

18 U.S.C. 922(d)(8): It is unlawful to sell or otherwise dispose of a firearm or ammunition to any person who is subject to a domestic violence protective order that restrains the person from harassing, stalking, or threatening an intimate partner or the child of an intimate partner.

18 U.S.C. 922(d)(9): It is unlawful to sell or otherwise dispose of a firearm or ammunition to a person who has been convicted in any court of a crime of domestic violence.

NOTE: The maximum term of imprisonment for a violation of 18 U.S.C. § 922 (d)(8,9) (g)(8,9) is ten years.

State Law

RCW 9A.040 (1)(b)(i): A person is guilty of unlawful possession of a firearm in the second degree if the person owns, has in his or her possession, or has in his or her control any firearm after having previously been convicted in this state or elsewhere of any felony
