STATE OF WASHINGTON,
Plaintiff,
vs.
SELENA URSA SMITH,
Defendant.

NO. 21-1-00676-34

NOTICE OF APPEARANCE, DEMAND FOR DISCOVERY AND EVIDENCE PRESERVATION

THURSTON COUNTY PUBLIC DEFENSE hereby appears in the above-captioned case as appointed by Thurston County Superior Court. All further papers and pleadings herein, except original process, should be served upon KARI LEIGH REARDON (WSBA #26142) at the address stated below unless notice is provided otherwise.

DEMAND FOR DISCOVERY

1. Pursuant to CrR 4.7, the Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution; and Article 1, Sections 3, 7, 29, and 30, and the Tenth Amendment to the Washington State Constitution, the Defense respectfully requests that the Prosecuting Attorney provide the following discovery by the date of the first scheduled omnibus so that a timely decision may be made regarding selection of a trial date or change of plea:

- a. The names and addresses of persons whom the Prosecuting Attorney intends to call as witnesses at the hearing or trial, together with any written or recorded statements and the substance of an oral statement of such witnesses.

- b. Any written or recorded statements and the substance of any oral statements made by the Defendant.
- c. Any reports or statements of experts made in connection with this case, including results of physical or mental examination and scientific tests, experiments, or comparisons.
- d. Any books, papers, documents, photographs, or tangible objects which the Prosecuting Attorney intends to use in the hearing or trial, or which were obtained from or belonged to the Defendant.
- e. Any record of prior criminal convictions of the Defendant and of persons whom the Prosecuting Attorney intends to call as witnesses at the hearing or trial.
- f. Any and all material, information and/or documentation available to the State regarding the interception and/or recording of any jail phone calls made or received by the Defendant from any other person including but not limited to his lawyers, relatives, friends, or any other individuals. This includes providing: the date and time of phone call intercepted, accessed, or listened to by a state agent; the phone number called; the call length; which state agent accessed, intercepted, or listened to the jail phone call; the amount of call listened to; and the date and time the call was intercepted, accessed or listened to.
- g. Any and all audio/video recordings of forensic interviews.
- h. Any and all audio/video/transcripts of witness statements.
- i. Any and all names of responding officers to incident.
- j. Any and all search warrants, applications, addenda, inventory and returns, audio files, and transcripts pertaining to search warrants authorized.
- k. Any and all consents to search vehicles, cellphones, or other property
- l. Any and all complete Cellebrite extractions.
- m. Any and all lab requests, bench notes, and reports for drugs, toxicology, weapons, bullets and/or casings, latent prints, buccal swabs, blood, or other forensic evaluations.
- n. Any and all Trimble scans.

- o. Any and all evidence logs.
- p. Any and all autopsy/coroner reports and photos.
- q. Any and all notes produced by law enforcement related to this incident,
- r. Any and all certified vehicle registrations and driver licenses.
- s. Any and all communication with alleged victim(s) regarding invoking their victim rights.
- t. Any and all current and updated phone numbers and addresses for potential witnesses testifying at trial.
- u. Any and all discovery not yet disclosed to Thurston County Public Defense.
- v. Any and all exculpatory information pursuant to Brady v. Maryland, 373 U.S. 83 (1963).

This requires the State to reveal any information it actually or constructively possesses and which information is favorable to the accused and material to the issue of guilt or punishment, or in any way discredits the State's case. Brady v. Maryland, 373 U.S. 83, 87 (1963); CrR 4.7. Although the Brady rule often is phrased in terms of information “known to the prosecution,” the prosecution’s “knowledge” for this purpose clearly extends beyond the personal knowledge of the Prosecuting Attorney representing the State at trial. Giglio v. United States, 405 U.S. 150, 154 (1972). “The individual prosecutor has a duty to learn of any favorable evidence known to others acting on the government’s behalf in the case, including the police,” Kyles v. Whitley, 514 U.S. 419, 437 (1995). A prosecutor must resolve doubts regarding disclosure in favor of sharing the evidence with the defense. Id.

DEMAND TO PRESERVE EVIDENCE

1. Washington recognizes a constitutional duty of the State to preserve material evidence. State v. Wright, 87 Wn.2d 783 (1976); State v. Spurgeon, 63 Wn. App. 503 (1991). Any failure to preserve evidence violates the accused’s constitutional right to due process and a fair trial. State v. Blackwell, 120 Wn.2d 822 (1993). The duty to preserve evidence applies not only to prosecution, but also to its agents acting under prosecutorial authority. State v. Vaster, 99 Wn.2d 44 (1983).

2. The accused requests that the Prosecuting Attorney, its agents and employees, as well as any city, county, or state employees or contractors involved in this case preserve all material evidence relating to this case. This request to preserve evidence includes:

- a. All physical evidence;
- b. Witness statements;
- c. Rough notes of any police officers, investigators, or any other persons making notes or presorts of any kind in connection with this case;
- d. Preservation of any audio or video recordings; and
- e. Any radio or computer transmissions—to include emails--made or received in relation to this case.
