PRO SE

vs.

JAMES, QUINDRE DURRELL

Protection Order/Surr Weapon DV

This matter came before the Court on a petition for a domestic violence protection order.

Both parties were duly sworn in by the Court to tell the truth.

The Court indicated that due to a lack of time from Court congestion that the hearing shall be continued. The Court extended the provisions of the temporary order until the next hearing. The Court noted the Respondent's acknowledgment of service and indicated that a return of service is required to be filed.

The Court produced a copy of the petition and provided it to the Respondent in open Court to alleviate service issues. The Court set deadlines regarding the filing and service of additional pleadings. The Court clarified service procedure on the record.

The Court signed and entered: Reissuance of Temporary Protection Order and Notice of Hearing.
